NEW QUESTION: 1
You need to create, configure, and deploy all VMs for the drug pricing and dosage software.
What should you do?
A. Provision each VM by using the Azure portal.
B. Install and configure a VM agent. Use Azure PowerShell to set the value of the ProvisionVMAgent property to True.
C. Deploy the solution by using Visual Studio Team Services Release Management.
D. Use the Azure Command-Line Interface (CLI) to run the azure provider register command for each VM resource.
Answer: C
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:
Explanation:
Release Management is a service in Visual Studio Team Services (VSTS) and Team Foundation Server (TFS 2015.2 and later) and an essential element of DevOps that helps your team continuously deliver software to your customers at a faster pace and with lower risk. You can fully automate the testing and delivery of your software in multiple environments all the way to production, or set up semi-automated processes with approvals and on-demand deployments.

Scenario: All VMS must be deployed using automated, repeatable processes that can be audited and validated. All VMs should be initially created, configured, and deployed as one logical unit within a single resource group.

NEW QUESTION: 2
You are designing an order processing system in Azure that will contain the Azure resources shown in the following table.

The order processing system will have the following transaction flow:
* A customer will place an order by using App1.
* When the order is received, App1 will generate a message to check for product availability at vendor 1 and vendor 2.
* An integration component will process the message, and then trigger either Function1 or Function2 depending on the type of order.
* Once a vendor confirms the product availability, a status message for App1 will be generated by Function1 or Function2.
* All the steps of the transaction will be logged to storage1.
Which type of resource should you recommend for the integration component?

Which type of resource should you recommend for the integration component?
A. an Azure Event Grid domain
B. an Azure Event Hubs capture
C. an Azure Service Bus queue
D. an Azure Data Factory pipeline
Answer: D
Explanation:
Explanation
A data factory can have one or more pipelines. A pipeline is a logical grouping of activities that together perform a task. The activities in a pipeline define actions to perform on your data.
Data Factory has three groupings of activities: data movement activities, data transformation activities, and control activities.
Azure Functions is now integrated with Azure Data Factory, allowing you to run an Azure function as a step in your data factory pipelines.
